Mrs. Lilian R. Costenbader

Since the School's re-opening in 1917, Mrs. Costenbader has served not only in an official capacity as the School's financial secretary, but unofficially with wonderful good humor and unobtrusive tactfulness in a thousand other ways. This past fall, Mrs. Costenbader "retired" to the more active life of a full-time parent and grand-parent. We are very much pleased that, as a parent of two boys in the school, she retains her association with the Academy. We need hardly add that she will always retain a high place in our affection and regard.

Last Will and Testament

I, Blake Anderson, leave the equipment room in that state of utter confusion that is sometimes called an organized mess, and my "lost and found" demerit pad to that unsuspecting junior who will find himself in my shoes.

I, Charles Brown, leave this annual to all Sherlocks.

I, James Davis, leave to Mr. Babcock, for his garden, an Emersonian bird house for those birds who live in deliberation; and to Doc, for the new school, the nitric acid stain on the chemistry lab table.

I, David Elliott, leave a rusty meat grinder with the inscription, "Just put it in the ole machine and turn the crank."

I, Thomas Forehand, leave blood, sweat, and tears to Mr. Mac, a curious fervor to Mr. Tyler, and a little compassion to Mr. Babcock.

I, George Garris, leave with twelve years of intellectual indigestion.

I, William Garrison, leave my cage to Mike Wood.

I, David Green, leave to Mr. Dukes, rocks to put in his mouth so that he can improve his vocal strength like Demosthenes.

I, Carter Gunn, leave my seventh period study hall to any aspiring prefect with the courage to undertake such an assignment.

I, Buzz Heidt, Lief the Vikings (Brrrt!).

I, James Kabler, leave my inherent knowledge of existentialism and my smoke filled lungs to any respiration junior.

I, Richard Lahey, leave a box of Johnson & Jenkins band aids, two ace bandages, and five gross of aspirin from the ton, i depresso box to all the cuts I've made.

I, Alan Lunin, do hereby leave four years of my life, two for Mr. Tucker, the rest for anyone.

I, Jim McClane, leave George Schren's autographed broken bird-cage helmet to next year's senior terror of the line (Kurtz?).

I, Tom McClane, leave my boisterous behavior in class to any junior who feels he can qualify.

I, Jose McNeal, bequeath my position as co-captain of the "Beach Bombers" car pool along with all my speeding tickets and late-to-chapel demerits to the lead-foot of "King" Wood.

I, Ned Mitchell, leave: frustrated, confused, and trembling.

I, Frank Morgan, bequeath to Coach "Dick" Wallace my long golden locks.

I, Christopher Pinner, leave my ability to do geometry and trig. to Mr. Harvey in hopes that someday he will be lost in darkest Africa and have to use them to find his way out.

I, Larry Powell, leave the junior class with Joe Duffy and John Donahoe. Good Luck!!!

I, Alan Rashkind, leave the math department reams of clean scratch paper, the science department, a theme entitled "The Ten Most Ridiculous Science Projects of the Last Decade" (I wrote one), a term paper with one footnote, the history department, the three pages of notes I have taken since the sixth grade, and to the memory of many and the joy of few, a Last Will . . . , one word shorter than Sam Logan's.

I, Tommy Rueger, leave my co-leadership of the "Beach Bumblers" car pool along with my ingenious late excuses to (Early) Austin.

I, George Sadler, leave mysteriously.

I, Tom Sellers, leave my boating excursions and moonlight cruises to, the future Sellers of Sandbridge, my roof-top escapades to Nelson Payne, and my accordion to Mr. Rodgers.

I, Bill Castle, (who, incidentally, am out of alphabetical order) knowing everyone expects something funny, leave my little brother.

I, Bryan Sharratt, leave Mr. Tyler a ruban bleu, Mr. Toler two season passes to the Peppermint Lounge, and Mr. Babcock one season pass and a fake I.D. to get him in.

I, Roy Shulman, leave Mr. Toler one iceberg, Mr. Tyler a Russian dictionary . . . and to Mr. Hughes Houghton leave over $1000 in cash and fear of being kidnapped.

I, Jack Smith, leave my old note cards, Sharratt's mannerisms, and Collector's knowledge of Russian art and music to Mr. Fahey to pass out among next year's debaters in equal portions.

I, Steve Steinhilber, after nine years of conslet, hope I leave.

I, Jay Thiemeyer, leave Mr. Jones a quarter-mile grastex track with Peter Snell trotting around it, and to Mr. Mac a speech class with Thor (clang!) Forehand in it.

I, Glenn Webb, leave my electronic ionospheric scatter detector to Mr. Mac in hopes that it will bring him many years of enjoyable use.

I, Dick Williams, leave my pep and vigor to those who have 6th period class and my science project to the incinerator.

I, Sterling Williams, leave my infamous nickname to any young but rising junior.

I, Barclay Winn, leave my collection of man-in-motion plays and unblemished record to Mr. Cumiskey who is having trouble winning these days.

I, John Winter, leave 999 unsolved trig. problems to Jim Culpepper.

I, Wiley Wood, leave my knee problems on the west end 20 yard line on the 3rd day of football practice . . . watch out for them!

I, Ed Underwood, honorary member of the "Beach Bombers" (and also out of alphabetical order) leave my administrative problems, keynotes, recaps, and pleasant dreams to "King" Wood.

The Student Council

The Student Council is an organization consisting of the officers from the upper five forms of the Upper School—the Sixth Form officers serve as officers of the Council with the President of the Sixth Form, Ed Underwood, presiding over the council.

It is the duty of the Student Council to represent the Student Body as an aid to the school administration, and to help the faculty with school activities such as the United Fund.

A special function of the Student Council is the Honor Court, composed of the officers from the Fifth and Sixth forms. In its closed-door sessions it hears, and then advises the faculty in cases involving alleged honor violations.

Key Club

The Key Club, like its sponsor the Kiwanis Club, is a service organization which works closely with its parent club to improve the school and the community. Some of its services include selling Academy book covers, sponsoring a dance, gathering food for needy families at Christmas, painting lines in the parking lot, providing the soft drink machine in the basement, ushering at the Kiwanis Bowl football game, selling doughnuts at snack, and supporting a French orphan. The membership of the club, which is invitational, consists of outstanding boys from the upper three forms of the school, and this year's sponsor is Mr. Babcock.

Prefects

This year the Academy initiated the prefect system as an integral part of student activities. Its purpose is to provide the opportunity for seniors showing leadership qualities to engage in leadership responsibilities. The duties of the eight prefects include the supervision of all study halls, the heading of lunch room tables, and the responsibility of providing outside speakers for chapel.

The Debate Team

Founded in 1926 by Mr. Alan Rashkind, the Richmond High School Debate Team has been active ever since. Last year, under the direction of Mr. Alan Rashkind, the team was invited to discuss the topic of "The Right to Work" with various high schools in the Richmond-Trafficant area. This year, there are 14 boys in the upper four forms who are interested in debating.

White 1965

The production of the ORANGE AND WHITE involves the hard work of two groups which contribute their time and talent to the assembly of the yearbook. The literary staff is that group responsible for the laying out of all pages and for the writing of the articles. This year's staff was headed by Tom Forehand, editor-in-chief, Larry Powell, Dick Lahey, Alan Rashkind, George Gatti, Ned Mitchell, and Jim Davis.

Backing the literary staff is the business staff whose efforts make the literary work possible. Under the Business Editor, Donald Beskin, the staff solicits for ads throughout the Tidewater area.

Both staffs owe a great deal to the literary advisor, Mr. MacConochie, and to the business advisor, Mr. Gray, whose help and advice have made this annual possible.

The Epsilon Club was established to stimulate interest in the scientific fields by giving scientifically inclined boys a chance to expand their knowledge. To further this end, the club sponsors lectures, movies, and field trips, and it defrays part of its expense by selling soft drinks at athletic contests. Its members are selected from applicants from Forms IV and V.

Closely patterned after the Senior organization is the Junior Science Club whose purpose is basically the same but whose members are drawn from Forms I through III.

Varsity Football

For the second year in a row, Coach Royce Jones was faced with the problem of a small team. The only 200-pounder on the team was Will Stacey. The next heaviest players were linemen Chris Pinner, Mike Wood, and fullback Dick Lahey, each of whom weighed 180 pounds. However, what this year's team lacked in size and speed, was made up for by a burning desire to win and great team spirit. There was not a position on either the offensive or defensive teams which could not be filled adequately by the bench. The offensive team consisted of Tom Sellers and Bill Garrison at ends, Chris Pinner and Mike Wood at tackles, Wimpy Bill and Joe McNeal at guards, Jeff Edwards at center, Tom Rueger at quarterback, Dick Lahey at fullback, and Erle Austin and Ed Underwood at halfbacks.

When the Bulldogs were on defense, Bill Mayo, Will Stacey, and Casey Jones came into the game.

The team boasted a 4-4-0 record, the best in several years and indicative of the ability present on the squad for the team played the hardest schedule to date.

COACH JONES

Dick Lahey

Most Valuable Player and Coaches' Award

This year Dick Lahey was selected the "Most Valuable Player" on the Academy eleven. From his fullback and halfback positions, he gained over 500 yards rushing and was the team's leading scorer with 20 points. He was also the defensive captain and played linebacker.

Dick Lahey was also chosen for the Coaches' Award, given annually by the coaches to the player who has demonstrated exceptional desire and teamwork during the season.

Best Lineman

The choice of Bill Garrison as the "Best Lineman of 1964" was an obvious one. As the prime target of the Bulldog's aerial game, Bill figured greatly as a ground gainer. He also played defensive halfback where his pass catching ability dismayed many opponents.

Bill Garrison

Ed Underwood

Best Back

Ed Underwood's ability as a shifty back made him the team's choice as the "Best Back of 1964." Whether returning punts or kick-offs, or skirting the end, Ed was a leading ground gainer and perpetual threat to the Bulldogs' opponents.

Most Deserving

This year Co-Captain Tom Rueger was selected by the team as the "Most Deserving Player of 1964" for his contributions to the team both as a leader and as a player. A tireless worker and a real hustler, Tom was an essential element of the Academy eleven.

Football Recap

Norfolk Academy 12

Virginia Beach 19

On Sept. 18, the Bulldogs played their first game of the season on the Beach's home field. At the beginning of the game, neither team could move on offense until the Beach scored on a seventy-yard punt return. The Seahawks scored again at the end of the first quarter. The second quarter was much the same as the first with the Beach scoring their final TD just before half-time.

The second half was an entirely different story for NA. The Bulldog offense, over its first-game jitters, moved the ball well and the defense held the Seahawks to a minimum of yardage. The Bulldogs drove to the three-yard line in the third quarter and from there Eric Austin plunged over the goal line.

Late in the fourth quarter, Bill Mayo capped another Bulldog drive by bulging over for another score. Time ran out as the Bulldogs pressed for their third score of the evening.

Norfolk Academy 6

Hampton Roads Academy 0

On Sept. 25, the Bulldogs traveled to Hampton Roads, where they evened their record at 1-1.

During the first quarter, the Bulldogs were penalized 95 yards. Penalties called back two touchdowns.

Late in the second quarter, the Academy quarterback, Tom Rueger, threw a 30-yard touchdown pass to Tom Sellers for the only score of the afternoon.

The Hampton Roads offense pressed close for a score several times, but a strong defense kept them scoreless.

Norfolk Academy 13

Christchurch 9

On Saturday, Oct. 3, the Bulldogs won their homecoming game by defeating the previously undefeated Seahorses of Christchurch 13-9, and boosting the NA record to 2-1.

The game was close all the way with neither offense able to score until Tom Rueger sneaked the ball over from one yard out to give the Bulldogs a short-lived lead. Christchurch scored a safety in the second quarter and added a touchdown in the third to give them a 9-6 lead.

On a fourth and 22 situation, Rueger tossed a 20-yard pass to Bill Garrison to set up the winning touchdown which was scored by Ed Underwood with 1:48 left in the game. Wiley Wood successfully kicked the extra point.

Norfolk Academy 19

Virginia Episcopal School 0

On Friday, Oct. 16, the Bulldogs swept to their third victory by defeating previously undefeated Virginia Episcopal School in a mud-mixed contest on the Academy field.

The Academy's first score came in the second period after an 80-yard drive through mud, when Tom Rueger fired an 11-yard pass to Bill Garrison for six points.

A strong Academy defense forced V.E.S. to punt three times and recovered two fumbles. It also kept V.E.S. from penetrating past our 35 yard line.

Ed Underwood scored a 20-yard touchdown on the first play of the final quarter, and Rueger completed a pass to Tom Sellers for the extra point. Later in the quarter, Dick Lahey added the final Bulldog tally—a fine run to the end zone. The Vikings played the rest of the game for the Academy, during which V.E.S. gained its only first downs.

Norfolk Academy 31

Norfolk Catholic 14

On Oct. 24, the Bulldogs squared off with their arch rivals, the crusaders of Norfolk Catholic, on the

around eight end

After forcing Catholic to punt on the first series of downs in the second half, the Bulldogs drove for another touchdown with Dick Lahey slinging over the score. The Vikings then came in for the Bulldogs and scored on a run by Vince Ober, who also added the extra point. The Viking defense did not fare quite as well and the Crusaders scored on a long pass.

The first team came back into the game, and as time ran out, scored on a 15-yard pass from Tom Rueger to Bill Garrison.

Norfolk Academy 7

Fishburne Military Academy 14

On Saturday, Nov. 7, the Bulldogs traveled to Fishburne Military Academy to play their next-to-last game.

The Bulldogs were plagued by fumbles and pass interceptions which repeatedly stopped Academy drives. Dick Lahey scored the only Academy touchdown midway through the second period. This is a game the Bulldogs would like to forget.

Norfolk Academy 6

Collegiate 13

Collegiate of Richmond scored two first-half touchdowns and were saved from two determined Academy drives by penalties on the afternoon of Oct. 9 on their home field.

The Cougars scored in the first quarter from six yards to take the lead. The Bulldogs bounced back in the second period as a series of runs by Dick Lahey set up a quarterback-sneak touchdown by Tom Rueger. Collegiate scored the winning touchdown minutes later, and due to a series of penalties, were able to stall an Academy drive at the five yard line as the game ended.

Norfolk Academy 7

Saint Christopher's 12

On November 14, the Academy lost its final game of the season to St. Christopher's, one of the best teams in the State.

Early in the first quarter, the Bulldogs capitalized on a fumble by the Saints when Dick Lahey scored both a touchdown and an extra point, the only Bulldog tallies of the afternoon.

S.C.'s Christopher's team was slow in getting started, but once they did, the Bulldogs could not stop the much faster and heavier team from Richmond.

Couch, Cooke, Head-Coach Corley, Coach Johnson

This year's Junior Varsity football team, under the leadership of co-captains Ted Wood and Whiz McNeal, finished the season with a 3-3-3 record with two of their losses to Granby and Norview. The team defeated the City League Comets, a team which the Academy has not beaten in six years. The defensive squad made many goal-line stands and held their opponents to only eleven touchdowns in nine games. The offense, however, had some difficulty in moving the ball in the early part of the season. Next year's Varsity will benefit from the experience gained by this team.

This year a new sport was inaugurated at Norfolk Academy: Cross Country. Under the leadership of Coach Wallace, the team developed quickly and well. The team consisted almost exclusively of freshmen and sophomores, and the work these boys put in during the fall will undoubtedly help them this spring. The cross country team met excellent competition and did exceptionally well for a first year sport. The top eight boys were the ones who participated in the away meets, and with the exception of Frank Morgan and Jay Thiemeyer, the entire team will return next year. Outstanding performances were turned in by Thiemeyer, Morgan, Duane Moats, Eric Hauser, John Lumpkin, John Metheny, Weldon Bradshaw, Bob Nusbaum, and Garnett Jordan. Next year's season should be better than this year's 3-4 record because of the experience gained this year.

Varsity Basketball

This year, the Varsity Basketball team was again plagued by a lack of height, but showed considerable competitive spirit in its first few outings. Although the members of the team were essentially a duplication of last year's, and they had played together for several years, the Academy's opponents have likewise improved tremendously. Faced with their toughest schedule in several years, the Bulldogs showed a tenacity which manifested the extreme amount of hard work and running which preceded the opening of the schedule. Win or lose, the Academy opponents knew that they had been in a scrap.

There were seven regular players. The starting five included Captain Dick Lahey, Windy Bill, Casey Jones, a sophomore, and John Winter. Tim Golden and Bill Garrison also saw quite a bit of action.

Under the leadership of Co-captains Steve Steinhilber and George Sadler, and the excellent coaching abilities of Mr. Taylor, this year's team is progressing rapidly. With no experienced wrestlers in the heavier weights, several boys who don't weight as much as their opponents have had to fill in and have done excellent jobs. The trademark of the team seems to be determination. Although the score of matches against some of the top teams in the area such as Cox and Granby would seem to indicate a complete rout, that is not the case because nearly all of the individual matches have been close.

This year's starting team consists of John Mitchell, Carter Gunn, Roy Shulman, Joe McNeal and Jeff Edwards on the line; Tom Sellers, George Garris, and Ed Underwood at halfback; Bill Castle, Will Stacey, and Glenn Webb alternating at fullback; and Joe Duffy, goalie.

Varsity Tennis

Compiling a record of 14 victories and one defeat, the tennis team of 1964 was the strongest ever fielded in Academy history. The ladder was: No. 1, Tommy Rueger; No. 2, John Winter; No. 3, Bill Garrison; No. 4, Ted Wood; No. 5, Wiley Wood and No. 6, Buzz Hecht. In Dudly Cocke and Gresh Byne, the team had two able reserves. The key to the success of the team of '64 was its depth. Each player could be shifted up and down the ladder without affecting the outcome of the matches. After losing the first match of the year to Woodberry Forest, the team rebounded for 14 consecutive wins highlighted by two decisive victories over Suffolk, the team which went on to win the State High School Championship. The team of '65 can look forward to a successful season in that all of the starting players are returning.

If one looked at the record of wins and losses of the '64 track team, he would not realize the individual effort put out by certain members of the team. However, if one watched the team practice and attended the meets, he would have seen the tremendous ability and great physical effort exhibited. We who came in contact with the team saw great performances by Steve Grenfell in the 440 yard dash. We saw George Sebren put the shot 47 feet 7 inches. We remember the spirit of Newty Miller, who did just about everything well. This year's squad should be a good one, as cross country in the fall has broadened the scope of the track program at N.A. Such competent performers as Ed Underwood, Moats, Thiemeyer, Bradshaw, and Smith are returning and Mr. Jones is contemplating an outstanding season.

Varsity Baseball

The N.A. Varsity Baseball Team, coached by Mr. Marshall Stuart, had a losing season despite the fine performance turned in by John Heilig, Mike Russell, and rookie Lewis Shulman.

Pitching was provided by Dick Lahey, John Heilig, and John Barnett. Although the team varied from game to game, it generally consisted of Mike Wood at first, Jim Fegley at second, Lewis Shulman at third, Mike Russell at shortstop, Bill Winn and Mo Knudsen behind the plate, and Bill Collector, Bill Mayo, John Heilig, and Dick Lahey in the outfield.

The leading hitter was John Heilig, with a .369 average, followed closely by sophomore Mike Russell with a .357 average. Russell also slugged 4 home runs, one being a long blast against a strong Maury team.

The team, although displaying a very poor won-lost record, showed signs of future greatness, as demonstrated by the fact that 8 out of 9 starters were juniors, sophomores, and freshmen, but as luck would have it, Russell, Fegley — a strong defensive 2nd baseman — and Knudsen, have this year unfortunately moved out of the Tidewater area.

Although the outlook for '65 is not as bright as it was before the sudden transfer of these three, the outlook remains optimistic for a successful upcoming season.

Norfolk Academy—Fall: 1966

A contract for the construction of a new Norfolk Academy has been negotiated and work on the new school is in progress. In December 1964, the expansion committee representing the boards of the Norfolk Academy and the County Day School awarded the contract to the Meredith Construction Company for an upper school (grades 7 through 12) costing one and a half million dollars.

The committee also directed the architects, Williams and Tazewell and Associates, to prepare plans for a lower school to be built on the same site. Construction of the upper school is expected to take sixteen to eighteen months. Both are expected to be ready for opening in September, 1966.

The major shift in plans occurred in April, 1964 when the Board of Trustees decided to grant the Norfolk Jewish Community Center an option to purchase the present property of the Norfolk Academy. This option included the purchase of the fifteen acre seven building site for $1,000,000. Everything on the Academy site is included except the faculty housing and apartments. The headmaster's house is included in the sale. When this decision was reached, it meant that the school's plans had to include a lower school on the new site, which was not included in the original plan. The estimated time of occupancy by the Jewish Community Center is the fall of 1966, by which time the Norfolk Academy will have built its new school.

The new Academy, according to the architects, will be an I-shaped complex arranged around four courtyards. A separate and smaller I-shaped lower school will be built nearby for boys in grades 1 through 6. Plans also call for faculty housing, but that phase will not be part of the construction which was begun in February. Mr. Brad Tazewell commented, "We planned it to be different from any of the high schools in the area. The emphasis is on a college campus with separate buildings. The structure is designed to be expanded outward or inward into courtyard areas."

The school's exterior will be of brick and precast stone. William Wshire, project manager of Williams and Tazewell, said the roofs of the gymnasium, library and auditorium will be copper for esthetic effect. It will gradually weather to a green color. Inside will be a 300-seat assembly hall with a stage for theater productions, but the auditorium is planned to be primarily a "teaching theater." The stage is deeper than the seating area. The complex will include laboratories for physics, chemistry, biology, earth sciences and general sciences plus two language laboratories. Both the boys and girls will use these facilities but at different times. The library will double its book capacity. Twelve thousand volumes can be accommodated in the new library.

The expanded facilities will enable the new co-ordinated school to accommodate many well qualified boys and girls who now have to be turned down because space is not available. County Day School, founded in 1957, has an enrollment of 160; girl students at the new Norfolk Academy are expected to number about 200 in grades 7-12. Increased enrollment for the boys' division will be from the present 372 to about 540. The school will accommodate about 740 students, or approximately double the enrollment of the present Norfolk Academy.

The independent co-ordinated educational complex was originally expected to cost $1,200,000, however the studies of the architects and the educational consultants have indicated the pressing need for the addition of other facilities and certain improvements in the original plans. The added expense of the lower school has increased the goal to $2,100,000.

Homecoming 1965

The Academy's Third Annual Alumni Day, in conjunction with the Homecoming Game, attracted graduates who began their tenure at N.A., in some instances, 60 years ago. About seventy-five alumni and faculty gathered at 12:30 for a buffet luncheon in the cafeteria. The Homecoming Game with Christchurch followed at 2:00.

A tremendous throng of Academy rooters and students from the Christchurch School at Silcox attended the closely fought contest which the Bulldogs won in waning moments of the game, 13-9. Ed Underwood went over for the decisive tally and Wiley Wood made the successful conversion, putting the finishing touch on a perfect afternoon.

Science Fair 1964

Each year, the best science exhibits of the students at Norfolk Academy are presented at the Field Day Science Fair. The fair is sponsored by the Epsilon Club and Mr. Kepchar, the head of the Science Department. Various area scientists and distinguished educators serve as judges in the three categories: chemistry, biology, and general science. This year's overall winner was Robert Pariser, who also capped the first prize in biology.

Speaking Contest

The Senior Speech Finals is a contest held among the five best senior speakers, chosen by the faculty on the basis of their final speeches. The purpose of the contest is to determine the best orator in the class. This year's contestants were Wendall Winn, Eddie Applegate, Tim Cooper, Tom Herman and Barry Levin. Tim Cooper and Tom Herman tied for the speaking cup.

The contest was judged this year by three alumni: Mr. Alex Kyras, President of the Norfolk Academy Alumni Association; Mr. Charles Cooper, a former first place cup winner; and Mr. John Ryan, also a first place cup winner.

Cooper and Herman had their names engraved on the cup, and it was placed in the school trophy case after presentation to the boys at commencement.

WHAT COLOR ARE HIS EYES? I DON'T KNOW; HE'S ALWAYS WEARING SHADES.

It is a typical day at the Norfolk Academy and the student body minus four files into the gymnasium-turned-cathedral arms itself with hymnsheets, and squeezes unceremoniously into the bleachers (the lucky ones with choice seats marked by white lines). For several moments there is an easy air about the congregation as it settles itself and prepares to begin the service. Yet upon second inspection, it is obvious that such is not the case. All eyes are fixed upon the door which admitted them. Raw naked anticipation has gripped every person in the room. Tension mounts and mounts with every second. Tie — tie — tie 8:44 — one minute. Gradually the looks of nervousness change to looks of horror. The cadence of the scuffling feet in the bleachers reaches a crescendo in a harsh grating scratch which pierces the atmosphere, challenged only by an occasional crack as distract ed hot, little fists clutching hymnsheets thoughtlessly strangle their prey. Tie — tie — tie. Suddenly, there is a blood-curdling screech from the parking lot which brings many to their feet. Tie — tie — tie. The Key Clubber leading chapel and cracking under the pressure, leaps uncontrollably to his feet and stares fixedly at the door which is straining under the force of 400 eyes. Tie — tie — tie. Just as it seems that mass hysteria will break loose at any moment, the Beach Bombers burst through the door. Some gasp out sighs of relief while others mutter under their breaths. The remainder of chapel is anachronic — until it is time to collect the hymnsheets.

Whichever senior is leading chapel turns a soul searching eye to the crowd, fully aware of the tense quality of the moment. The thought springing through every one's mind is "Will I have to pick up the hymnsheets?" — "Will I?" Usually a member of a lower form is appointed. However every senior has had, upon occasion, a growing fear that some supposed friend drank with power and willing to risk everything in breaking with conformity would humiliate him in front of everybody. Miraculously this farner is also overleapt and the assembly peels itself from the wooden pews which by this time have permanently crippled their backs, and sets forth, mentally exhausted, for first-period class.

On the second floor sixteen breathless seniors pause in math class as a small drama unfolds itself. In walks Mr. Harry followed by two Canetti Cops, Ned Mitchell, visibly shaken, slithers down in his chair.

"Now, boys," he barks, "we have a problem here. I'm not sure there's a solution to this problem but there definitely is a problem." Now Ned. Yesterday you turned in the heel and walked around a corner without looking, knocking Mr. Toler to the floor in the process. Do you realize what it has done to the man? He hasn't slept a wink since. He can't even interpolate anymore. To heap sin upon sin, he swears you were under the influence at the time, and that the offending Dentynie was discovered in your pocket. Time out, as we change tenses in mid-stream!

With two quick taps of his cane he sent the cops into action. Ned, straining and struggling, was seized and dragged below, followed by Davis who, graph paper in hand, plotted Ned's quavering course and declared that the excited lad just wasn't the function he used to be.

The bell rang and the class hiked to the physics lab. As they walked in the door they were not in the least surprised to see Mr. Jones sitting in a porch swing suspended from the ceiling directly above his desk. He was wearing a Dr. Zacharias sweatshirt, Bermuda shorts, tenni-pumps and a "Pel. Boyer Fan Club" button, in addition to a coffee pot balanced precariously on his right knee. In front of him was the offensive line of the Green Bay Packers on roller skates with a slinky in each hand.

"Aw sir! You said we weren't gonna have a quiz today!" "O — haven't you heard? It's raining in Saluda. Take out a piece of paper. Here's the quiz. Who? where? . . . what? . . . when? . . . do you regret it?

Meanwhile, the hefty physicist sent the Packers stumbling out the door looking for smokestacks. The handsome V.M.I. graduate then turned to the class demanding to know the flaw in his apparatus which would prevent their computing of the test. It was finally pointed out that the coffee pot was actually only a homely German stein and that this had thrown off the data considerably. The bell rang and the crafty coach dismissed the group along with a cheerful, "You do and you'll clean it up!"

European history with Colonel Fahey was the next course. "Now, boys. There were some great current events over the weekend. In Bongo Congo . . ." As he spoke, the class noticed that the top two buttons of his shirt were undone and were revealed to the class, was a shiny blue suit with a big red "S" over his chest. The suspicions of many weeks were justified. The spirited professor continued.

"By the way, did I ever tell you about the time the Russians caught me sliding down the nose-cone of their biggest missile? Just when I was beginning to have some fun, in walked 3000 Russians with sub-machine guns. I knew that I must not panic and I figured I could be tricky as always and take them all. Then, the colonel from the Soviet Mission approached and asked me what I was doing there. Suddenly, it struck me! The universal sign. I raised my hand, and pointed. The Colonel's face paled and the 2999 others were likewise affected. Realizing what I had on my mind, the Colonel dismissed me and I walked out scott-free."

The bell rang and as they walked to snack, the class noticed a blue streak flash across the northern horizon, reading for parts unknown. At snack the topic of conversation was Mr. Mac's propensity toward gesticulation. He waves his hands around a lot. Someone remarked that the English professor was never around for snack and this observation lead to a search. After an extensive hunt, he was finally located in the gym working out furiously on the isometric rack. A bit embarrassed, he finally admitted that he was warming up for his next class.

When the period began, everyone anxiously awaited his arrival. At last, he entered, approached the podium, and commenced. He was never more brilliant. Slash, slice, hack, chop - he cleaved the air deftly and artfully with his experienced right hand. Under the guise of a lecture on Sir Winston Churchill, he was actually giving a course in Karate-ken (charge Karate). retreat. The light-footed Scotsman danced skillfully around the room. As the bell sounded, the lecturer gave the famous sign of victory, a "V" with two fingers, ending the lecture. But the class knew that he was really demonstrating the deadly eye chop, used to maim your opponent until you can move in for the kill.

Study hall is the final course on the academic patter, followed by lunch. Study hall is a basic part of a senior's day, designed to enhance his knowledge. As the name indicates, the period is devoted to studying and exploring the halls. Aimless wandering, surfing down the hysterical Wallace Pipeline and coke n' coke sabotage are common practices.

Lunch.

After lunch, a satisfied and refreshed student body returns to work. What follows are two periods of inactivity known as the activities periods, followed too closely by athletics and dismissal.

In retrospect, the day might appear, upon hasty inspection, to have been of little value. However, the experience gained in analysis of character and insight into true purpose, causes every day to stand alone as a valuable lesson in life.

"You're right, Mr. Toler. There is a one to one correspondence."

As Shakespeare Said:

"Yond Cassius hath a lean and hungry look!"

"All the world o'er I have yet trod,
And I have found it is a weary life."

"Care is no cure, but rather a disease for those that are not to be remedied."

"Enter, Rous, Countrymen, lend me your ears!"

"Oh, that this too, too solid flesh would melt!"

"There is something rotten in the state of Denmark."

Season's Greetings from The Stuyvesant Basso Hunt Club

We are the cancer which has been rubbed and cut by the Class of 1965. We do well to name wolves and robbers, for they are the guises which our fiendish brotherhood wears when we despoil the prosperous and ambush the defenseless.

Finality formed an aura which has clouded the sensitivity governing that celebration factor in our human make-up . . . however nebulous it may be. Yet, though our attitude is rudely malignant, we desire that our clandestine inner souls be not misconstrued. After all, we're all animals.

IS LAWN FEEDING A GUESSING GAME?

complete,* all-purpose
plant food!*

You don't have to play a guessing game when you fertilize. You know your lawn, shrubs, flowers, trees and garden are getting complete, balanced feeding when you use Nutro Plant Food Pellets. Easy-to-spread pellets dissolve slowly, feed plants longer. Stop guessing and start using Nutro Pellets for a more beautiful lawn and garden. A 50-pound bag full-feeds 5,000 square feet.

*contains all six major plant foods, plus essential Micro-Nutrients .... including iron, molybdenum, manganese, zinc, boron and copper.... guaranteed on every bag!

WHO'S HUGHES?

Open letter to Mr. Hughes:

Dear Uncle Steve,

Here it is the last deadline and we find that we have not cracked a single funny about you; frankly (as Morgan reminded us), we'd forgotten. To make amends for this gross injustice, we really should mention your name a few times, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Hughes.

Norfolk Academy

A Day School for Boys

In attempting to capture the spirit and ideals of the Norfolk Academy, we include here excerpts from the official Norfolk Academy catalog, complemented by the sketches by our official staff artist.

"The aim of the Academy has been thorough preparation of its students for the ultimate responsibilities of adult life."

"All boys in the Academy are given an opportunity to subscribe to an insurance plan which covers accidents during the school day."

"The school believes that boys whose energies are properly directed need little discipline"

"The aim of the athletic program is to develop a keen desire to compete."

"The school looks with disfavor upon boys' using tobacco or intoxicants under any circumstances."

"Honors are accorded boys who demonstrate superiority in their academic work"

"Boys guilty of petty disorders are required to do manual labor at the school on Saturdays"

"In Physics, the fundamentals of mechanics, heat, light, sound, and electricity are presented both from the theoretical and practical standpoints"

"The program for English seeks to assist a boy to mature into a cultivated man . . . a thinking man . . . as the result of a frank examination of character"

A black and white portrait of a man with dark hair and glasses, wearing a suit and tie. He is looking slightly to his left.

This image shows a page that has suffered significant damage. The paper is a light cream or off-white color. There are several dark, irregular smudges and stains scattered across the surface, most notably a large, dark, horizontal smudge near the top center. A large, jagged tear is visible in the upper right quadrant, with torn edges and some dark material protruding from the tear. The overall texture appears rough and uneven due to the damage.
